Healthcare design demands specialized knowledge of the complex issues impacting the design of healthcare facilities. Going through the process of certification has made me a better healthcare design professional. The CHID certification has provided me with added credibility, confidence and assurance with clients and a competitive edge in business.

American Academy of Healthcare Interior Designers

The single source for certifying healthcare interior designers

The American Academy of Healthcare Interior Designers (AAHID) is a nonprofit organization committed to the development and administration of the CHID Certified Healthcare Interior Designer® Examination, the only specific certification for healthcare interior designers. AAHID is not a membership organization, but rather an organization that certifies interior designers who specialize in acute care, ambulatory care, and residential healthcare facilities design.

To promote the highest standards and values, AAHID:

- requires ongoing continuing education for all certificants to enhance their professional development, and maintain the highest level of professionalism, integrity and competence
- backs evidence-based research focused on the impact of the design of the built environment on outcomes
- values partners who transform the healthcare environment into one for healing, improving outcomes, and maximizing efficiency

Volunteers and partners

Volunteers are important to AAHID's operation. Providing strategic thinking and leadership to drive AAHID initiatives, volunteers serve on the board of directors, review CHID exam applications, lead training and education presentations, and are involved in test development activities.

Industry Partners are companies that believe in and support AAHID's mission to qualify and certify healthcare interior designers.

Our mission

The mission of the American Academy of Healthcare Interior Designers is the certification of interior designers qualified by education, examination, training, and experience to provide interior design services to the healthcare industry.

Our vision

The vision of the American Academy of Healthcare Interior Designers is to be the essential certification program for healthcare interior designers.

“The CHID credential helps distinguish the professional designer as an individual with relevant expertise in designing for healthcare environments.”

A Message from the President

Kristin Ellingsen,
CHID IIDA EDAC
2021 President, AAHID

Dear Fellow CHID Certificants, Industry Partners and Colleagues,

I am very excited to lead AAHID and continue to advance the work of our wonderful immediate past president Carol Doering and the AAHID board. It is my privilege to serve along with my fellow Directors to continue this exciting journey. Thanks to the hard work of our Founders and CHIDs around the country, we are stronger than ever! We are a talented and distinguished group of designers and architects who have earned the CHID Certified Healthcare Interior Designer® credential – healthcare design's recognized indicator of knowledge and proficiency in interior design principles, and commitment to the profession.

Although 2020 was an extraordinarily challenging year around the world and in healthcare, we still found ways to connect and support each other. Though we could not be together in person, we gathered for our Shake it Up! virtual reception during Healthcare Design Virtual and experienced that incredible sense of community. We connected. We inspired. We celebrated. We grew. We learned. We remain a community of healthcare interior designers from all over the country, dedicated to advancing healthcare design for patients and residents.

We continue to lead industry practice. The Durable Coated Fabrics Task Group presented an educational webinar highlighting their work and the recently published "Know Your Durable Coated Fabrics – Reduce Failures and Advance Understanding Using the Durable Coated Fabric Selection Process and Programming Guide."

We will continue to maintain, strengthen and make new connections.

While our strength is in combined contributions, it is important to note the impact that each one of us can make. If you are wondering how you can make a difference, let me share how a group of CHID volunteers did just that! This past year, the AAHID Test Development Committee (TDC) tirelessly worked with Certification Management Services (CMS), AAHID's testing company partner, to strengthen the CHID exam. Reference materials were evaluated, existing exam questions were analyzed, and new exam questions were written for technical compliance ensuring the timely roll-out of the examination. I would like to send a special thank you to the TDC for their commitment to ensuring the CHID exam continues to set the standard for assessing competency among healthcare interior designers.

And, a special thank you also goes out to all of you. Your ability to continue to spread the word about CHID certification is instrumental in the continued growth of AAHID. Keep it up! Together, great things are possible and I'm proud to state that over 275 CHIDs have attained and maintain the highest standards of professionalism, integrity and competence in healthcare design. We are especially pleased to have a new group of 37 CHIDs who passed the examination during the most recent cycle. Congratulations!

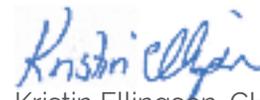

Despite not being together in-person, AAHID continued a campaign of visibility and value. CHIDs were front and center at virtual industry events and CHIDs energetically advocated for the importance of certification in 2020. In November, we all came together virtually during the Healthcare Design Conference and Expo to network with our colleagues, learn about the latest industry happenings, and to celebrate each other. AAHID industry partners were especially important to this gathering. Thanks to their generosity, networking efforts, and collaborative participation, industry partners open doors to new opportunities and introduction to new certificants.

As AAHID looks toward the future, we remain relevant and influential. Your contribution to this effort is important. If you are not already part of the AAHID LinkedIn group, we encourage your participation. Post interesting articles, projects, and industry trends that serve to engage the healthcare interior design community and promote the importance of attaining the CHID credential. Connect now >>

While 2020 was a challenging for everyone in healthcare, we see exciting new growth in the year ahead. Please join us. Your partnership is key to our strength. There are many ways you can support AAHID and if you have an idea or passion, please let us hear it!

Sincerely,

Kristin Ellingsen, CHID IIDA EDAC

Distinguish Yourself

Become a CHID.

The CHID Certified Healthcare Interior Designer® credential is the only certification that tells your colleagues, clients and potential employers that your education and experience in healthcare interior design distinguishes your qualifications.

UPCOMING EXAM:
September 2021

2022 APPLICATION
DEADLINE: May 1, 2022

Commitment to Credentialing Excellence

Changes ease the CHID application and examination process

Major enhancements have been implemented to the CHID application and examination process. The creation of a new online fillable application and the elimination of the portfolio and letters of reference make it easier than ever to become a CHID. Now, applicants who meet the certification and required years of experience criteria, only need to obtain the endorsement of a current CHID.

AAHID has also partnered with the testing company, Certification Management Services (CMS), paving the way for candidate convenience and flexibility. Candidates no longer travel to testing centers to sit for the exam. The online, proctored exam may be scheduled any day within a pre-determined window, at the candidate's location of choice – even from the comfort of home. The CHID exam is offered one time per year during the month of September. May is the application deadline.

Certification continues to increase

AAHID realized a 72% increase in board certified healthcare interior designers from 2018 to 2020. Increased marketing and outreach activities, in addition to a collaborative effort by AAHID founders, industry partners and current CHIDs served to fuel this impressive growth. Overall AAHID has experienced a 96% increase in certificants over the past 5 years.

Moving forward in 2021

AAHID will offer the CHID examination one time in 2021. May 1 is the application deadline for the September window. Interested and qualified candidates can visit aahid.org and learn how to become certified.

AAHID Test Development Committee (TDC)

Working to maintain the highest standard of quality

To prepare for the examination, the TDC spent many hours evaluating reference materials, analyzing the current relevancy of existing exam questions, and writing new questions to ensure the quality and fairness of the exam. Their collaboration was a true testament to the commitment to the CHID certification.

AAHID gained 37 new certificants in 2020, due in part, to the hard work of this dedicated committee. AAHID would like to recognize the members of the TDC with a special thank you.

HCD provided a platform to continue the discussion on Durable Coated Fabrics for Healthcare

On November 12, 2020, AAHID was pleased to host and participate in a virtual panel discussion focused on Spec It Right: Know Your Durable Coated Fabrics – Reduce Failures and Advance Understanding Using the Durable Coated Fabric Programming and Selection Guide for Healthcare. The presentation provided an overview of new information about material selection from ongoing durability tests of heavy-duty commercial healthcare-rated fabrics in both laboratory and real-world environments, including heightened cleaning regimens related to COVID-19.

See the presentation slides and other resources on the Durable Coated Fabrics website.

The panel is committed to working together to address this mutual challenge, recognizing the ability of a multi-disciplinary team of industry partners with shared purpose, to creatively solve these problems.

Industry Relations & Partners

Our partners make our work possible

Developing and maintaining industry relations is essential to furthering the AAHID mission. Industry partners play a major role in facilitating outreach efforts to potential CHID exam candidates and providing networking opportunities for current CHID certificants. AAHID is grateful for the generosity of our industry partners. Their support makes it possible to enhance the visibility of the CHID certification and to grow the CHID credential.

Industry Partner Advisory Council – Strengthening partnerships through collaboration

As collaborative partners committed to creating the best environments for healthcare delivery, the Industry Partner Advisory Council engages in activities focused on certification and organizational growth. The Council conducts quarterly calls to optimize relationships and identify opportunities to promote the positive impact that CHIDs have on healthcare design projects.

Developing strategies that focus on the growth of CHID certification, and enhancing industry partner benefits,

The Council brings together diverse perspectives that encompass all avenues of healthcare interior design. The AAHID Board appreciates and recognizes the participation of each Council member as well as their contributions to furthering designer and industry relationships.

Networking and sharing expertise

The healthcare design industry provides several forums throughout the year for AAHID to expand its reach, gain visibility, promote the CHID certification program, and support our industry partners.

Thank you to everyone who helped make the AAHID HCD 2020 experience a great success. We are excited to continue the established connections.
